Come Explore With Us!

www.AllamakeeCounty.com
You will find an entirely different experience in Allamakee County, the Northeast corner of Iowa! Deeply carved river valleys, upward reaching bluffs and outdoor activities for all seasons, are just a few things that make our county one of a kind! We have spectacular views of bluffs, the longest trout stream in the state, and the only National Monument in Iowa.

Allamakee is the place for adventure, family friendly experiences & unrivaled natural beauty.

Besides our natural surroundings, Allamakee County offers quaint downtowns, one of a kind shops and history that may surprise you. Did you know that Jefferson Davis spent time in Allamakee County? Davis was sent to Allamakee County to open the first saw mill west of the Mississippi River because he was courting President Zachary Tyler’s daughter. Despite Tyler’s effort, they did end up getting married on June 17, 1835.

We hope you find this brochure a useful and educational resource that will entice you to visit Allamakee County. We, Allamakee County Economic Development & Tourism (ACED), are proud to promote our wonderful county and we hope you enjoy it as much as we do. We are able to provide this brochure and other resources because of our business members. Without their support we would not be able to achieve the goals we have reached, provide the services we offer and create the marketing materials to help promote our county.

ACED members are denoted in this brochure by the “مركّب” symbol and bold. Please thank the ACED members when you have the opportunity to do business with them.

We are unique and can provide you a vacation, weekend getaway, hunting exploration or family adventure that you will never forget.

Come Explore With Us!
The interior and exterior of this 1863 building has been preserved to reflect the time of its construction, including the bell tower, which houses the original bell. The whole family will enjoy a step back in time as you visit displays of period clothing and furnishings, including the piano and organ from the historic Wexford Church (located in the rural Lafayette Township area). A medical exhibit includes an operating table and instruments used by physicians during the early years of the county’s settlement. The original second floor courtroom is intact and includes a display of law books, judge’s chair and bench, witness chair, and the jury box.

Effigy Mounds National Monument
151 Hwy. 76, Harpers Ferry
(563) 873-3491 • www.nps.gov/efmo/index.htm

No visit to Allamakee County would be complete without stopping at Iowa’s only national monument, Effigy Mounds National Monument. There are 206 known prehistoric Native American Indian mounds within the borders of the park, 31 of which are shaped in the likeness (effigy) of bears or birds. The 2,526-acre park is divided into two units (North and South) by the Yellow River. Although most Indian mound groups involve hiking along relatively long and steep trails, three burial mounds are accessible directly behind the visitor center. Hiking trails offer modest to extended routes, allowing you to select your route and view a variety of mounds. An accessible boardwalk trail into the wetlands near the Visitor Center is available for disabled visitors and persons of all walking abilities. Open year-round.

Black Hawk Bridge
IA-9/WI-82 Mississippi River Crossing, Lansing
Completed in 1931 at the cost of nearly $750,000. The Black Hawk Bridge crosses the Mississippi River with a design that has attracted not only local, but national attention for its beauty. The cantilever structure spans the Mississippi, joining the states of Iowa and Wisconsin. The bridge was named in honor of the great Sauk leader, Chief Black Hawk and is popularly referred to as the “Lansing Bridge”. The bridge roadway is 21 feet wide with a minimum vertical clearance of 18.5 feet and has a total length, including the main channel crossing and approach spans, of 1,623 feet.

1878 Old Mission Dr., Harpers Ferry
(800) 291-2143 • www.ionexchange.com

Growing wildflowers, native plants, native grasses and gardening plants. Ion Exchange, Inc. is a Native Wildflower and Prairie Grass Nursery established in 1988. Tours are available by appointment.

Old Courthouse Museum
107 Allamakee St., Waukon
(563) 568-2954 • www.allamakeehistory.org

Within the 1861 structure, one will discover rooms furnished to reflect the 19th and early 20th century, displays of farm tools, military items, medical room, and the court... room-complete with the judge’s bench, chair and gavel. The courthouse was the center of a great controversy between the cities of Waukon and Lansing. Both cities claimed to be the County seat; each raised funds and built courthouses with Lansing completing theirs first. In June of 1866, after ten county seat contests, a posse of 30 men on horseback seized all the county records and took them to this Waukon courthouse. The Iowa Supreme Court later intervened in the dispute, making Waukon the official county seat. Locals today will still speak of the brazen action!

FISH FARM MOUNDS STATE PRESERVE

Hwy 26, 3 miles S. of New Albin

A 3-acre prehistoric cemetery (mound group) located in the southern portion of the 576-acre Fish Farm Mounds Wildlife Area. The Preserve contains a cluster of 30 conical mounds of various sizes, which were built by Native Americans from 100 B.C. to 650 A.D. The Wildlife Area is mostly wooded and is abundant with wildlife, making it a popular hunting area. Site includes picnic shelters and limited hiking and walking trails.

IRON POST

Hwy 26, 1/4 mile N. of New Albin

For many years, the border between Iowa and Minnesota was hotly disputed. Iowans urged the government to use the Minnesota River as the dividing line, giving Iowa a good portion of what is now southern Minnesota. Minnesotans wanted to use the 42nd parallel as the border, giving them the city of Dubuque & Northern Iowa. In 1849, Captain Thomas J. Lee settled the matter by establishing the border at 43 degrees and 30 minutes north latitude. To solidify his mark, Lee purchased a cast-iron monument on October 19, 1849 and had it installed on the border. This 600-pound cast-iron post marks “Minnesota” on the north, “Iowa” on the south and “1849” & “43-30” (latitude) on the sides. This is the only original marker remaining on the northern boundary line of the State of Iowa.

MUSEUM OF RIVER HISTORY AND COMMERCIAL FISHING MUSEUM

60 S. Front St., Lansing, (563) 538-4641 or (563) 538-3943

Lansing’s unique history as a river town comes to life in this specialized museum, featuring a collection of memorabilia from the early development of the town. Authentic wooden boats and artifacts offer visitors a glimpse at the early clamming and clamshell button industries, as well as commercial fishing and ice harvesting. An extensive photograph collection documents the growth of this river town, which was an important ferry point for immigrants crossing the Mississippi River in the early days of westward expansion. Open by appointment.
GJEFLÉ LOG CABIN
121 Allamakee St., Waukon
(with the Courthouse Museum)

This two-story cabin was originally built by Norwegian immigrants. It housed as many as 15 people at a single time between 1870 and 1886. Cabin was moved to its present site in 1990.

SANDY POINT CEMETERY
(Historically known as Harpers Ferry Cemetery)
Southern end of Sandy Point Rd, Harpers Ferry

Surrounded by a modest, black iron fence and shaded by tall oak trees, two very different histories are juxtaposed at this point. Buried in this small cemetery is David Harper, an influential businessman known for his large merchandising business of produce. The town was named after Mr. Harper in 1860 and he is still regarded as a leading spirit in the development of Harpers Ferry and his gravestone still stands in dignified grandeur. But it is what surrounds Mr. Harper’s gravesite that makes this cemetery so unusual: seven ceremonial Native American mounds. As many as 2500 years before the settlement of Harpers Ferry, this land along the great river was occupied by Native Americans. From the Woodland Period, the people are known for their subsistence horticulture, ceramics production, diversified hunting/gathering and their extensive trade networks. Midwest archaeological evidence has revealed materials and artifacts from as far west as the area now known as Yellowstone National Park. These people also built earthen structures called “mounds.” Archaeologists speculate that the mounds found at Sandy Point Cemetery, like many other area mounds, were constructed not only as refuges for the dead, but as territorial boundaries between groups.

TURNER MEMORIAL HALL
119 E. Greene St., Postville

Built in 1913, the building shows the predominance of the German-American culture. In 1940 the hall was offered to the town for a reasonable sum. Under the Iowa Code of laws, the town could not legally purchase the building for town hall purposes alone. Thus, the building served two purposes, town hall and as a memorial for the community’s veterans, hence the name “Memorial Hall.” The property was added to National Register of Historic Places in 2000.

WEXFORD IMMACULATE CONCEPTION CHURCH
1416 Co. Hwy. X52, Harpers Ferry

This Immaculate Conception Church located in an area called Wexford is reportedly the oldest Catholic Church between Dubuque, Iowa and St. Paul, Minnesota. Located nine miles south of Lansing just off the Great River Road, this little stone church is perfectly perched above a charismatic Allamakee County valley. A creek runs along nearby, the sun cascades over the woodland, the road hugs the landscape and it isn’t hard to see why Irish settlers chose this special site to start their community. The church’s simple, elegant interior is full of calm, especially when the late afternoon beams of sunlight stream through the intricate stained glass. Make sure to notice the framed port record on the back wall which lists all the Ticonderoga ship passengers who sailed from Liverpool, England to New Orleans in the winter of 1850. It is many of these listed individuals who deemed this valley their final destination. They constructed a small log church in 1851 under the direction of their pastor Father Thomas Hore. The church you see standing today, completed in 1870, was the third church built at this location.
The following historical sites are located on private property. Please obtain permission from property owners before going on the property.

ARTHUR WENDEL RESIDENCE
611 Dodge St., Lansing
Constructed in 1870 in Second Empire Style, this home presently a private, multiple-family dwelling.

CENTER BAPTIST CHURCH
1555 Trout Rd, Lansing
Established in 1853 - the second oldest Swedish Baptist Church in America. This church building was dedicated in 1912.

DANIEL BRENNAN RESIDENCE
491 N. Front St., Lansing
Constructed in 1870 as a single family residence, this Italianate Style mansion continues to serve as a private single-family dwelling.

G. KERNDT & BROTHERS GENERAL STORE
391 Main St., Lansing
Constructed in 1861 as a general store, this Vernacular style building is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. With its attractive exterior and open interior, the space is often used as a community center.

G. KERNDT & BROTHERS GRAIN ELEVATOR
60-90 Front St., Lansing
This Vernacular Style stone and brick structure originally weighed and loaded steamboats and late rail traffic. The structure was constructed in 1868 and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

LANDMARK INN & GUN HOUSE
1172 Hwy 9, rural Lansing Township
A Federal Style structure built in 1851. The front section was built as the private residence by Col. John Wakefield. Historians say Wakefield was a childhood friend of Abraham Lincoln and commissioned by the President during the Civil War. The rear section was added in 1854 and has been a brewery, hotel, store and post office. The house is now a single family residence. The stone structure directly behind the Landmark Inn is the Gun House, constructed in 1851. Supposedly built by Col. Wakefield to defend against Native American uprisings following his participation in the Blackhawk Wars.

LANSONG STONE SCHOOL
509 Center St., Lansing
The Stone school was built in 1863, by Thomas Gottlieb Engelhorn for a cost of $5,000. The two-story building, three blocks west of the Mississippi River, was constructed of locally quarried limestone and of oak and white pine materials. It opened in 1864 and was used continuously as a school for 108 years, closing in 1973. Greek Revival Style; listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

ALBERTA HOUSE
Country RD. A-26 (intersection of A-26 & Lycurgus Rd.), rural New Albin
This originally intended wayside hotel served as a refuge for frightened settlers during the New Ulm Massacre (Sioux) on September 1, 1862. Built by E.T. Albert four years prior to the massacre, it features three-foot-thick stone walls.

COLSCH LOG HOUSE
2774 Hwy. 26 (east side of rd.), rural New Albin
Constructed in 1858 Elijah Fish (originally called Elijah Fish Log Cabin), the 1 ½ log house sits on land surveyed by Nathaniel Boone, son of Daniel Boone.

NEW ALBIN TOWN HALL
NW corner of Main St. & Ross Ave., New Albin
Used until 1969, this 1895 structure features a bell tower in the Vernacular Style with elements of Greek Revival Influence. Building contains just three rooms: the jail, a marshal’s office and council room.
REBURN 12-SIDED BARN
1641 Pool Hill Dr., rural New Albin
This unique 12-sided, beef cattle barn was built by Tom Reburn in 1941. Some of the timber and sheathing lumber was taken from Reburn’s father’s barn. With a 46 foot diameter, the barn is capable of feeding 50 cattle at one time. Interior of the barn has a circular feed aisle and hay mound with a circular track for the hay fork. This structure is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

JOHN R MOTT HOUSE
265 W. Williams St., Postville
This Victorian Style two-story frame house was constructed in 1867 and was the boyhood home of former Postville resident, Dr. John Raleigh Mott (1865-1955). Dr. Mott received the 1946 Nobel Peace Prize for founding the World Council of Churches. Hailed as an international religious leader, Dr. Mott was recognized for his service in church and missionary movements. Identified with a bronze plaque and is now a private apartment building known as Mott Manor. The building also once served as a hospital. Visitors are allowed only to look at the exterior from the sidewalk or road.

ROGER KOLARICH HOME
111 E. Tilden St., Postville
Constructed in 1872 by Fodfrey Stadt, this two story frame home in Victorian Gothic Style includes a stage. Stadt’s son enjoyed performing one-person shows, so Stadt had the stage built for his son. The building presently serves as a dental office.

OLD EAST PAINT CREEK LUTHERAN CHURCH
1799 Elon Dr., County Rd. A-52, Waterville
Constructed in 1869, structure is considered Gothic Style and listed on the National Register of Historic Places. This was the first church constructed for Norwegian settlers in Allamakee County.

BARNES OCTAGON HOUSE
22 E. Main St., Waukon
This Stone Italianate house was constructed in 1865. The house was built with local limestone and the foundation is 20-foot bedrock while the walls were quarried from the basement site. The house was built for Thomas H. Barnes, an early settler of Waukon and local physician. Barnes served in the Civil War and built the house upon returning to Waukon. Today the house serves as a dental office.

OTTO J. HAGER HOUSE
402 Allamakee St., Waukon
Constructed in 1908 the brick Prairie School-Style home was designed by prominent architect Robert C. Spenser of Chicago. Property is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and presently a private single-family residence.

HUNTING & FISHING:
Iowa Fishing and Hunting Regulations can be found at www.iowadnr.gov and information about US Fish and Wildlife Service lands can be found at www.fws.gov.

DEER
Allamakee County is a top county for Boone and Crockett trophy quality deer and ranked 8th among all North American counties. With over 10,000 acres of state DNR hunting land, finding your perfect spot for that “big buck” shouldn’t be a problem. Make sure you have your Iowa hunting license and permission to hunt on any private land.
FISHING
Allamakee County boasts some of the most beautiful and plentiful trout streams in the Upper Midwest. Named the second most visited county by Trout Anglers in the State of Iowa, it's a true angler's paradise, dotted with miles and miles of trout streams. Some are easily accessible in state or county parks, and others are located wild and remote natural spaces. Iowa trout streams offer rainbow, brown and brook trout, both naturally reproducing and stocked. For the non trout angler, Pool 9 of the Mississippi River offers major species of bluegill, channel catfish, crappie, freshwater drum, largemouth bass, northern pike, sauger, smallmouth bass and walleye. Minor species of flathead catfish, rock bass, white bass, yellow perch can also be caught. Free fishing weekend is the first full weekend in June for Iowa residents.

MOREL MUSHROOMS
Morels are edible mushrooms that grow in the spring. The cap of morels is holey or spongy looking, and they have hollow stems. The mushrooms are typically found in moist areas, around dying or dead elm trees, sycamore and ash trees, old apple orchards and maybe even in backyards. Highly sought mushrooms, morels once picked keep for two to three days, according to Iowa State University. Some Iowa residents plan their springtime around hunting for morels. However, poisonous false morels also grow in the same areas during the same time of year. Obtain permission prior to entering any privately owned land.

WILD GAME
Allamakee County boasts a large population of wild turkeys, pheasants, duck, geese and other small game. With the vast amount of public land, support from land owners and hunting aficionados, Allamakee is a prime destination for wild game. When hunting, follow all laws, regulations and landowner directives. Hunting licenses can be purchased at numerous outlets.

This two mile gravel trail takes you out into the Mississippi River floodplains and backwaters. It is just one small portion of the 660 acre Pool Slough Wildlife Management Area. The trail crosses wetlands, sloughs (areas of soft muddy ground), then winds its way through a floodplain forest. The end of the trail will provide a parking lot, boat ramp and fishing platform. Bring your boat and this landing will be the start of your adventure into Reno Bottoms’ backwaters.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER TRAIL (MRT) 280 MILES (BIKE)
The MRT provides an opportunity for you to safely bike one of the Nation’s most spectacular roadways, the Great River Road. Although this bike trail does not yet stretch the length of Iowa, you can access the MRT in New Albin and bike all the way to Lansing, then ride into Harpers Ferry and south. Hop on again just south of McGregor and ride to Guttenberg. It provides opportunities for you to enjoy bluff top views of the Mississippi River or get up close and personal with the river.

SNOW MOBILE TRAILS
The Allamakee Sno-Blazers maintain approximately two hundred miles of groomed snowmobile trails, including the Yellow River State Forest in Allamakee County. Scenic Trails connect with Winneshiek County, Clayton County and Minnesota trails. View map at: www.snoblazers.irtwebservice.com.

WAUKON RECREATIONAL TRAIL 2 MILES
Over two miles of trail within the Waukon City Park. Future plans are being made to extend this trail so it creates at least a three mile loop. View a map: www.allamakeecounty.com.

WATER TRAILS:

FRIENDS OF POOL 9

MISSISSIPPI RIVER - RENO BOTTOM’S
Reno, MN to New Albin, IA  (563) 873-3423 • www.fws.gov
This 14 mile trail has three take-out points along the trail. From April to early June, Millstone and New Albin Army Road Landings are frequently under water. You should take out at Visger’s Landing during high water. Pick up a map before your adventure so you can find your way through the maze of islands and backwaters. Plans are to extend the canoe trail to Harpers Ferry Effigy Mounds National Monument. Refer to the Reno Bottoms Canoe map at www.fws.gov.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER LANSING TO HARPELS (563) 873-3423

Paddlers can put in at Lansing and work their way 17 miles downstream on the Mississippi or put in at Heytman’s Landing and go nine miles downstream to Harpers Ferry. The trail portages over the spillway at Lock and Dam No. 9. Future plans will connect to the Reno Bottom’s water trail. Trail is managed and maintained by US Fish and Wildlife

UPPER IOWA RIVER WATER TRAIL

Canoeing the Upper Iowa River was recognized by National Geographic Adventure magazine as one of the top 100 adventures in North America. Canoeists should expect to share the river with kayakers, tubers, and anglers. Spending time on the water and camping on the river is a regular family affair for some, a weekend adventure with friends for others. Local youth spend endless hours on the most popular stretches. The towns on the river welcome visitors, and many provide camping and lodging opportunities. The Allamakee section of the Upper Iowa is where the valley widens and the bluffs rise further away from the river. Take a canoe trail in the fall to view the fall foliage. For a detailed map, please contact the Allamakee Co. Economic Dev. Office at (563) 568-2624.

YELLOW RIVER WATER TRAIL

The longest cold water trout stream in Iowa, the Yellow River also has the highest gradient of any canoeable stream in Iowa. The lower 35 miles offer challenging rapids, limestone cliffs, towering bluffs, mature hardwood forests, combined with high clarity water make this a superior experience. The history of this river is rich with prehistoric Indian Mounds, French fur Traders and the first sawmill in Iowa. For a map and information, contact the Allamakee Co. Economic Dev. Office at (563) 568-2624.

HIKING:

You will discover Allamakee County has what you are looking for. From a casual scenic walk to a sweat worthy trek, there’s a trail for you. Effigy Mounds National Monument has over 2,526 acres to explore with trails for various skill levels. You will be rewarded at the top of Fire Point with the amazing view of the Mississippi River Valley. More great places to visit: Yellow River State Park (Harpers Ferry), Spillway (North of Harpers Ferry), Fish Farm Mounds (New Albin), Mount Hosmer (Lansing) and Army Road trail (New Albin).

CROSS COUNTRY SKIING & SNOW SHOEING:

During the winter months dig out your skis and snow shoes and enjoy the scenery of Allamakee County. Allamakee County Conservation rents snowshoes if you’re a first timer! Similar to hiking, Allamakee County has numerous public areas for this adventure. The 14 miles of trails at Effigy Mounds National Monument are not groomed, but open year round. A popular and scenic area is within the Yellow River State Forest.

The Driftless Area Scenic Byway is recognized as the most scenic byway in Iowa!
The Driftless Area Scenic Byway is a 100-mile zigzag route known for its natural and scenic attractions. The byway curves, twists and meanders through the most Northeast corner of Iowa in Allamakee County, the heart of a region known as the “Driftless Area”. The term Driftless was developed to describe this distinct region of gashed and furrowed terrain that was by-passed by the last continental glacier that passed over the state of Iowa, centuries ago.

The byway stretches out across bluffs, hills, rivers, and valleys. The streams and river valleys have carved down into the land encompassing the byway, giving travelers an opportunity to view some of the most esthetically appealing high relief landscape found anywhere within the state. These geographic features reward byway travelers with countless panoramic vistas and expansive views of hillside pastures, hardwood forests, majestic limestone bluffs, outcroppings and scenic river valleys. As might be expected, these natural wonders also provide many outdoor recreation opportunities. You can hike miles of state forest trails, fish for trout in cold water stream, explore the Mississippi, Yellow and Upper Iowa Rivers by boat or simply relax and enjoy the peaceful natural scenery. Fall is an especially scenic time on the byway as the hardwood timbers blaze with color.

While driving this roller-coaster road, you will discover historic gems nestled within the rugged land. The byway embraces five quaint, historic communities that provide opportunities to experience shopping, entertainment, local foods, town events, festivals and reenactments. Such events provide an insight to the region’s heritage, as do the dozens of unique mom-and-pop shops and diners. Human settlement of the area began thousands of years ago. Just outside of Harpers Ferry, Effigy Mounds National Monument features a collection of animal-shaped mounds built by prehistoric Native Americans. The landscape is also dotted with evidence of all those who have settled in the area since that time. You will find historic stone churches, pioneer cemeteries and unique bridges, as well as museums interpreting the heritage of the area. The Driftless Area Scenic Byway is a place where the region’s scenic beauty and recreational opportunities merge, resulting in a distinctive experience of Allamakee County in Northeast Iowa.

THE GREAT RIVER ROAD
ALLAMAKEE COUNTY
Begin near New Albin and drive south through forests and farmland to Lansing. This old river town gives access to Mt. Hosmer Park, a panoramic view of the Mississippi Valley and the tri-state area. Next, explore Yellow River State Forest- 9,000 acres of public hunting, hiking and fishing. Visitors also have access to 3,000 acres of Mississippi River backwater areas. This area is truly a sports enthusiast’s paradise. Check out the rest of the Great River Road byway by visiting the web site www.experiencemississippiriver.com.
