What is a Scenic Byway?

A scenic byway is a road, but not just a road. It is a road with a story to tell. A scenic byway might feature magnificent views, amazing wildlife, historical sites, an array of outdoor activities or reveal captivating cultures. Byway travelers are treated to an uncommonly existing, educational and entertaining trek that will surely make a memorable experience.

The Driftless Area Scenic Byway...

Is a 100 mile route that introduces travelers to the welcoming people found within the communities of Postville, Harpers Ferry, Waukon, Chruchtown, Lansing and New Albin.

Was designated in 2001 and exhibited the highest scenic rating of any state byway in Iowa.

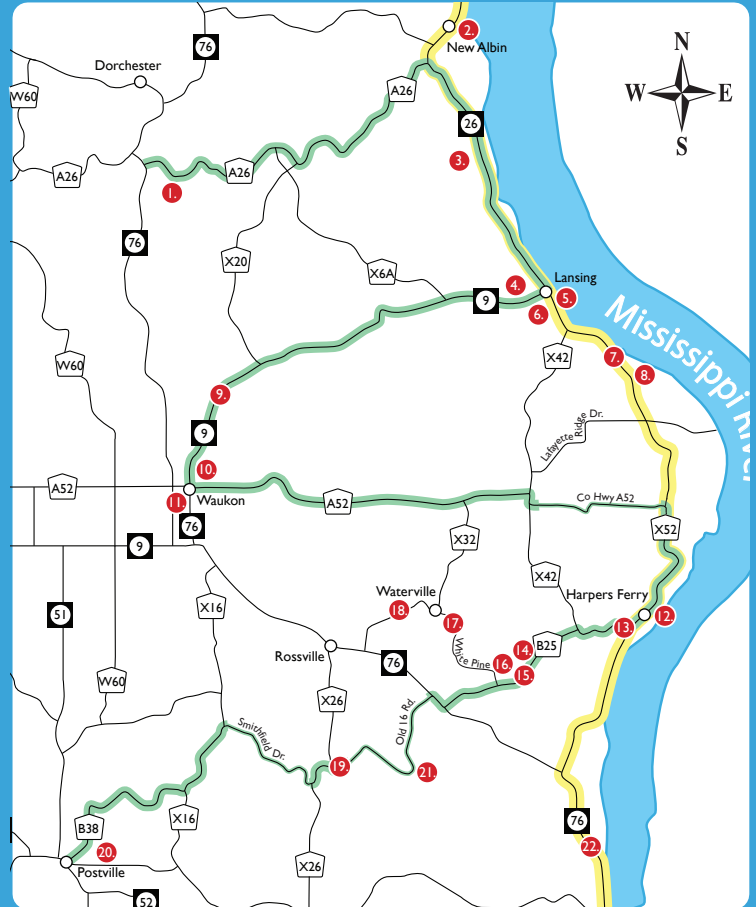

Awards travelers with views of breathtaking vistas, rolling hills, deep valleys and dense forests that showcase some of the best fall foliage found anywhere west of the Mississippi.

Is an ideal loop for visitors traveling the Great River Road as the byway connects along two segments; once in Harpers Ferry and again in Lansing.

Passes public lands and parks that offer seasonal opportunities for hiking, canoeing, camping, fishing, birding and cycling.
